European green crab (CAMA)

A.

Correct Answer: B

Two features in this photo distinguish the hairy helmet crab (TECH) from the European green crab (CAMA):

1. The green crab carapace is pentagon shaped, while a hairy helmet crab carapace is diamond shaped.
2. Hairy helmet crab has 6 marginal teeth (widest at the 5th) while the green crab only has 5 and is widest at the last tooth.
3. The hairy helmet crab is covered with bristles and bumps, even on the carapace. Green crab have some fine hairs on their legs, but a smooth carapace and shell overall.
