Before the Virus...

Shawn Hine, Liz Tobin, Hansi Hals, Randy Johnson and Hilton Turnbull were the brave souls who ran the 80 mile relay in late February.

Thanks to the Casino's support (which hosted the post-race dinner) of the Frosty Moss relay event, Jamestown was invited to have a team in the full Frosty Moss Relay. On February 29th, five staff members from the Natural Resources Department ran our way from Sol Duc Valley to Blyn. It took 13 hours 13 min to complete the 80 mile course, about a 10:10 minute per mile average. The relay was largely on the paved Olympic Discovery Trail, but there were some early challenging legs on the adventure route, for fun and technical single track. Here we are – happy to be done. ~Hansi Hals

11th Annual 2020 Jamestown Holiday Craft Fair Applications will be available in May!

If you or someone you know would like to be a vendor, please access the details and application on the Tribe's website under Events and Announcements.

Donations Aid Tribal Food Programs

When the Casino restaurants and Cedars at Dungeness closed there was a lot of food on hand that might have spoiled or been thrown away. Thankfully, Elders Cook Janet Giammalva was able to connect with resort food and beverage staff to make sure that food was put to the best possible use. Janet along with Traditional Foods Program staff Lisa Barrell and Mack Grinnell were able to prepare 229 meals for the Tribe's Elder Meal delivery program. Other perishable food items from the resort were donated to the Tribe's Food bank, and other long lasting food is continuing to be used in Elder Meals. Grant Writer Linda Brenner and Economic Services Manager Christine Kiehl loaded up a vehicle with fresh produce from the Casino and distributed it, along with Elder meat and food bank collections. The Tribal Food Bank continues to serve the Tribal community, keeping physical distance but still providing nourishment for those in need.

Black Cod Distributed

Traditional Foods Program staff Lisa Barrell and Mack Grinnell, with the help of several volunteers, processed around 700 lbs. of cod. Each of the volunteers took some home. They had a fish fry at the cácu sčá?yiqwł - Riverside Berry farm planting event, and handed out packages of cod to volunteers. The remainder of the cod was frozen for use at future gatherings. Lisa also smoked fish to use in street tacos for the eventual kickoff food tasting event for the new stətiləm ʔiyém - Jamestown Strong program. At that event we will also be handing out packages of frozen fish.

Above Ricky Talbot and Dean Owen assist while Tribal citizen Drew Balch pours black cod into a Tribal citizen's cooler. Staff distributed 6,000 fish to Tribal citizens and staff on March 6th. The fish were grown for Jamestown Aquaculture in tanks and net pens at NOAA's Manchester, WA lab. Thank you, Jamestown Aquaculture!

Above, Adam Barrell, Hawk Grinnell and Rachel Sullivan were among the volunteers who processed the black cod for packaging.

Seeking Nominations: Volunteer of the Year

The Volunteer of the Year award is intended to go to that individual or group who has shown selfless generosity by volunteering a significant contribution of time and talents in service to the Tribe and its mission.

To be eligible, the nominee must be an adult or youth who provided volunteer service unrelated to paid activities or employment in service to the Tribe.

Volunteer of the Year Nominating Forms are available at the Tribe's website (www.jamestowntribe.org, on the Announcements page), and in the Administration Building lobby. Forms should be sent to Ann Sargent at asargent@jamestowntribe.org, or by mail to her attention by July 1, 2020. The Volunteer of the Year will be recognized in the Tribal newsletter and at the Tribal Picnic in August.

It is with great sadness that we inform you of the passing of Sam Bugge, on Sunday, March 22nd. He had been a valued member of our maintenance team 1/2014 thru 10/219. He was a descendant and namesake of Jens Samuel Bugge, founder of the Bugge Clam Cannery at Washington Harbor. Please keep Sam's family in your thoughts as they go through this difficult time. He will be missed!

Please stay healthy and informed!
